NCV Photograph - TOMORROW

Don't miss out on being part of the first ever photo of the NCV community on Tuesday morning at 7.45am. The photo will take a few minutes then we'll have breakfast (pancakes). The official photographs at New College have proven to be a wonderful record of the community over the last 40 years. One of the first things alumni do when they come back is to look at the College photos. Be part of starting this same tradition at New College Village.

NCV Church Services

I have decided to plan and run an NCV Church Service on the first Monday of each month (7.30pm-8.30pm). The purpose of the service will be to bring together people in the building who see themselves as Christians (from any denomination) or anyone interested in knowing more about Christianity.

The format of each service will be informal and will include:

- ◆ music
- ◆ a short sermon
- ◆ prayer
- ◆ reading God's word
- ◆ other items as relevant

I'm keen to seek volunteers to help me run the services each month. I need help with music, prayer, supper and set-up. Please try to be part of these services.

The first service will be on the 1st June at 7.30pm.

NCV Practice Annual Review

Sheau Fang Ng and Vivian Shek are organising an evening at which some research students will have the opportunity to present their annual review. This takes the form of a short presentation on their proposed research. We are keen to have interested residents in attendance to form part of the audience and to offer some feedback. Why don't you join us on Thursday 21st May at 7:30pm in the Main Common Room?

Card Swipes

A number of residents have been careless with their card swipes that provide access to the building and to individual rooms. At times the Senior Residents are woken to let people back into their rooms well after midnight (even 2.00 or 3.00am). If this is a case of someone losing their card or forgetting it on a rare occasion then SRs are glad to let you in, but when it is the 3rd to 10th time that someone has done it their patience is tested. Please note that as the Handbook points out a charge of $10 will be applied to any callout after 11.00pm and before 7.00am. This will be debited from your account and will be doubled after a second instance.

July Break

While not all residents will stop studying in the mid-semester break (e.g. research students and MBA students continue and medicine students have different break times), a number of people will be planning some travel or sightseeing. The Resident Committee has been discussing ideas for July and would love to have your views on potential activities that might be planned by residents. For example, if there were some planned short-term trips in Australia would residents be interested in taking part? Please contact me at ncvdean@newcollege.unsw.edu.au with your ideas and comments. I will pass these on to the Resident Committee.

Fire Alarms

I just wanted to say, well done! Three weeks without an alarm is quite an achievement. Please keep it up.

New College Musical

New College will be presenting the musical Kiss Me Kate this week (Wed, Thurs, Fri and Sat) at 7.00pm. Tickets are available by e-mailing newcollegeplay@gmail.com or calling extension 4745 from your room phone. Carmen and I will be going on Friday evening, why don't you join us?

NCV Seminar

6pm-7:30pm Thursday 28th May — Prof. Joe Wolfe

Professor Joe Wolfe teaches in the Physics department at UNSW. His research fields of interest include music, speech acoustics and cellular biophysics. His group studies the acoustics of musical instruments and of the vocal tract, and the production and analysis of sound by physiological, mechanical and electronic systems. He has been recognised with various teaching awards including the Australian College of Educators ACE quality teaching award in 2006.

Come along and hear about his journey arriving at UNSW and his ground-breaking research that he is currently undertaking.

Please RSVP by Monday 25th May, 2009 to ncvdean@newcollege.unsw.edu.au and include Joe Wolfe in the subject line.

Recipe of the week — Quick Microwave Pudding

Ingredients

- ♦ 60g butter or margarine
- ♦ 60g caster sugar
- ♦ 60g self raising flour
- ♦ 1 medium egg, beaten
- ♦ 2 tablespoons milk
- ♦ 2 tablespoons of jam or syrup

Method

1. In a medium bowl, cream together the butter and sugar until smooth. Mix in the egg and milk gradually, so as not to curdle the mixture. Sift in the flour, and fold in gently.
2. Put 2 tablespoons of golden syrup or raspberry jam in bottom of microwave-safe bowl. Pour in the mixture.
3. Cover, and cook for 3 minutes on full power, or until the pudding appears set when gently shaken and the top is sticky. Serve hot with custard or cream.
